

KEVIN ACCO... VOICE OF DEMOCRATS

not make it necessary for me to get up in the convention and say that Judge Gray will not take the place.

"He will not do it. I tell you positively that he will not take the nomination if it is offered him and in my opinion he will not take the place if he is elected."

The Texans, however, remained unconvinced and refused to accept the nomination of Judge Gray.

Senator Stone of Missouri asked for information regarding the rules for nominating speakers. He was informed that there was no rule and made a motion that all nominating speeches be limited to ten minutes each and that seconding speeches be not more than two for each candidate, and not longer than five minutes each.

Chairman James directed the call of states to proceed.

"Alabama yields to Indiana," replied the chairman of the delegation from that state, and the followers of John W. Kern cheered lustily.

Towne Is Nominated.

When Colorado was reached on the roll call, Gov. Charles S. Thomas of that state made the platform to place in nomination Charles A. Towne of New York. The convention did not at first understand whose name Governor Thomas was nominating, but as he proceeded, recounting the events in the career of the man he had come to name, it was understood that the name was that of Charles A. Towne. Towne's name was received with applause, but only one New York delegate showed signs of approval by waving his hand.

Connecticut was next to place its candidate in nomination, sending J. J. Walsh to the platform to place in nomination Mr. Bridgeport. Mr. Walsh was loudly applauded by the galleries when he eloquently spoke of the appreciation of the delegates from that state in the "wonderful hospitality of Denver." Mr. Walsh reviewed Mr. McNeill's political character and the esteem he is held in throughout New England.

"Give us McNeill," he concluded, "and we will give you Connecticut next November."

Delaware yielded to Georgia its place on the roll call, and L. T. Hill from the latter state placed in nomination Mr. Hill in nomination. Mr. Hill made a happy little speech that had in the minds of the delegates an added virtue in that it was short. The mention of Mr. McNeill's name was greeted with much applause.

Folk for Kern.

Florida, next on the call of states, yielded to Missouri, and Gov. Joseph W. Folk took the platform amid cheers from all sections of the hall.

The most enthusiastic extended to any of the speakers. It was some little time after his introduction before he could proceed. When he spoke he was second in nomination of Mr. Kern. Governor Folk spoke briefly and was cheered again when he closed with the mention of Mr. Kern's name. The hand played the "Banks of the Wabash," in honor of Indiana's candidate.

Mitchell Is Mentioned.

Mr. Kern placed the name of John Mitchell before the convention. Although he did not offer him as a candidate, a heavy cheer followed the mention of Mr. Mitchell's name and it was heartily applauded every time it was mentioned. Mr. Kern said that Mr. Mitchell had said that he preferred that his name be not presented as a candidate and be therefore, in behalf of Illinois, seconded the nomination of Kern of Indiana.

When Indiana was reached, Chairman John E. Lamb asked, "Indiana gracefully yields to Alabama."

Congressman T. J. Hefflin of the latter state then spoke briefly to second Mr. Kern.

As spokesman for Iowa, Martin J. Wade announced that the state had intended to present the name of Jerry B. Sullivan. "In the list of names of candidates already named," he continued, "Mr. Sullivan gallantly has asked that his name be not presented."

When Kansas was reached, the chairman of the delegation announced that Kansas had hoped to vote for John Mitchell, but would be satisfied with any one of the candidates already in nomination.

Nebraska requested to be passed. Nevada seconded Mr. Towne.

New Hampshire fell into line with the Kern states. New Jersey was passed and New York was reached.

Leader Murphy of Tammany arose amid cheers, but there was a wave of disappointment when he announced that Mr. Kern, the chairman of the state of New York presents no candidate.

General M. A. Hildreth of North Dakota, speaking for the state, seconded the nomination of Kern.

It was evident that Ohio intended to split its vote, as it was announced that the majority of its delegates seconded the nomination of Kern.

Pennsylvania sent to the rostrum M. J. Rayson, who also seconded Kern.

Rhode Island was passed. South Carolina made no announcement and South Dakota declared for Towne.

Gray Banner Still Waves.

When Texas was called the Gray banner still was waving over the delegation, despite the constant efforts of Judge Gray's managers to have it lowered. There was a thrill of anticipation when the chairman of the delegation asked that former Congressman Thomas B. Ball be recognized. He spoke of the desire that Texas had entertained to nominate Judge Gray, but said the delegation had heeded the earnest appeals of its representatives and while disclaiming any desire to elect a running mate in such complete harmony with the platform. Stop off and see us on your way east."

The following telegram was sent to Mr. Kern. "Accept my warmest congratulations. Your nomination gratifies me very much. We have a splendid platform, and I am glad to have a running mate in such complete harmony with the platform. Stop off and see us on your way east."

Towne's Gracious Tribute.

"It has become abundantly apparent that the desire of the convention that its presidential nominee," said Mr. Towne, "after a wave of greeting applause had subsided, "and I desire, while earnestly thanking my friends who have complimented me by placing my name before you to release you from your further consideration of me and leave me free to vote for that splendid old Democratic warhorse from Indiana—John W. Kern."

Mr. Towne concluded by pledging his loyal support to Bryan and Kern.

Mr. Howell of Georgia directed the withdrawal of his name and a speech to this effect was made by Mr. Hill of that state, who said that Georgia is declining to push the nomination of Mr. Howell also seconded the nomination of Kern.

Utah Seconded Kern.

Utah seconded Mr. Kern from the floor. Vermont was passed, and then J. H. Tyler came forward to speak for Virginia. Mr. Tyler was about to nominate W. G. Conrad of Montana, when the latter asked that his name be not used. He closed by seconding Mr. Kern.

Governor Haskell of Oklahoma, speaking for his state, which had been requested to be passed in the roll call, endorsed Kern, as did West Virginia.

Rhode Island through her spokesman, Governor Higgins, announced that its delegation had intended to support McNeill, but now, with the consent of Connecticut, desired to second Kern.

Ohio, having been passed earlier in the call, sent John J. Lentz to the platform of this juncture, to second the nominee from its neighboring state of Indiana. Washington and Wisconsin both added their voices to the Kern chorus.

George Fred Williams of Massachusetts declared that his state had planned to vote for Ollie James of Kentucky, but as the convention was held in the state of Indiana, he was unable to do so.

Every remaining state and territory declared for Kern, including Montana and New Jersey, which had been passed at their request.

Senator Grady of New York asked here that the state again be called. The request was complied with, and Daniel F. Cohan, Tammany leader, went to the platform.

"New York," said Mr. Cohan, "came to this convention without a candidate either for the presidency or the vice presidency. We were under instructions from our state convention to consult with leaders from all parts of the country to see that best might be done for the party. We are convinced that the voice of the party in no uncertain tones called for the nomination of William Jennings Bryan, and we now feel there is no other course open to us but to support him."

Mr. Kern, New York, therefore, desires to second Mr. Kern, and in behalf of the delegates of the Democratic party, I desire to pledge our earnest support and to say to you that all that can be done by harmony, intellect, energy and vigor, will be done by us in November for our ticket will be done."

Connecticut withdrew the name of McNeill and moved that the nomination be made by acclamation.

Nebraska, which had been passed had been forgotten, and the clerk asked that it be called, and then seconded Kern.

"Gentlemen of the convention," said Mr. James of Kentucky, who was again in the chair, "have heard the motion. Are you ready for the question?"

Roar of Ayes.

Mr. James stated it was at 4:34 p. m. a roar of "ayes" made John W. Kern of Indiana the nominee for vice president of the Democratic party.

The nomination was instantly in great confusion, and was brought back to order with difficulty. A large number of resolutions and motions were adopted by their adoption the national committee was directed to fill any vacancies that might occur in the national committee, and the various state central committees were empowered to fill any vacancies from their state on the national committee.

A motion was passed tendering the thanks of the convention to Thomas Taggart, retiring chairman of the committee, for his part in the work.

Other resolutions adopted expressed the thanks of the convention to the delegates and to the manner in which it had entertained the delegates and to permanent chairman Clayton and to Mr. J. H. Ball for their ability with which they had conducted the sessions of the convention.

Another motion was adopted with a cheer, appointing Mr. Clayton chairman of the committee appointed to notify Mr. Bryan of his nomination and Mr. McNeill of his nomination, and Mr. Ball chairman of the committee selected to notify Mr. Kern.

The Rev. P. T. Ramsey of Denver was invited to offer a benediction upon the state and at 4:23 it was adopted. The crowd made a rush for the doors, and the convention was ended.

Will Consult Bryan.

Denver, July 10.—The Democratic national committee will confer with William Jennings Bryan at Lincoln Tuesday next. The committee met today for a telegraphed invitation from Mr. Bryan, which was submitted to the committee by Mr. Hall, the Nebraska member. Thomas Taggart of Indiana was elected temporary chairman, and Urey Woodson of Kentucky temporary secretary, to serve until permanent campaign managers are selected.

Kern for vice president, Mr. Bryan said that he is not only pleased with the nomination, but that he is pleased that it would meet with such unanimity. There were a number of persons whom he counted as available, and Kern was the state to have a running mate in such complete harmony with the platform. Stop off and see us on your way east."

The following telegram was sent to Mr. Kern. "Accept my warmest congratulations. Your nomination gratifies me very much. We have a splendid platform, and I am glad to have a running mate in such complete harmony with the platform. Stop off and see us on your way east."

MRS. KERN VERY SORRY KERN IS APPRECIATIVE

Husband Means More to Her Than Any Political Honors Which He Might Receive.

Indianapolis, July 10.—Mrs. John W. Kern, wife of the nominee for vice president, was notified by the Associated Press of the nomination of her husband at Denver. She was at her home, 1836 North Pennsylvania street, with her children.

"I had hoped," said she, "you would give me the news that Mr. Kern had not been nominated. I, of course, appreciate the honor conferred upon Mr. Kern, but I cannot understand what conditions at Denver have arisen that would cause him to accept the nomination. Mr. Kern has injured his health in past campaigns by his activity, and as he means vastly more to me than any political honors, I am sincerely sorry, although I suppose I should not say so."

"I am profoundly appreciative of the honor which has been conferred upon me," said Mr. Kern, when seen shortly after the convention adjourned. "I regard the honor all the greater, because I did not seek the place nor did my delegation."

Tomorrow night the vice presidential nominee will leave for Lincoln, where he will see Mr. Bryan and discuss the forthcoming campaign.

LAMB MAY BE CHAIRMAN

Man Who Handled Kern's Campaign Is Mentioned for Commander-in-Chief of Democrats.

Denver, July 10.—John E. Lamb of Terre Haute, Ind., is tonight prominently mentioned for chairman of the Democratic national committee. The skillful manner in which Mr. Lamb has, during the campaign just closed, handled the vice-presidential campaign of John W. Kern, has made him prominent in the party, and his friends are strongly urging him as the most suitable man to manage the national campaign.

No definite selection of a chairman will be made until after the members of the national committee have conferred with Mr. Bryan at Lincoln on Monday next. It is known, however, that Mr. Lamb would be acceptable to Mr. Bryan, who has been it is said, strongly impressed by the work of Mr. Lamb, not only as manager of the Kern campaign, but also by his work on the committee on resolutions. Mr. Lamb was for years a law partner of the late Senator Voorhes.

DESPERADO IS CAPTURED

Lone Robber Is Taken After Attempt to Hold Up Express Train on Great Northern.

St. Paul, July 10.—A report received at the Great Northern railway headquarters here says that a lone highwayman attempted to hold up the westbound fast mail train No. 3, one and one-half miles east of Naples, Idaho. Conductor Matthews and the robber, whose name is Robert Roman, exchanged a fusillade of shots. The conductor shot the robber through the lungs, breaking one rib.

The man left his package of dynamite and other tools and fled down the track to Naples, where he attempted to hide in the brush. The officers and train crew tracked and captured him. He declares he was the only man concerned in the venture. It is doubtful if the man will recover from his wounds.

BOND QUESTION DISCUSSED IN LIVELY STYLE

ocrats, "Americans," and Republicans all looked alike to him, but he said nothing against the Socialists. The trend of his remarks was to counsel the council for giving away valuable franchises.

"I believe that the council is composed of a bunch of grafters and I say it in all frankness," he declared. Great applause.

He believed that a banker, an ex-banker, members of the council and a favored contractor, he continued, "are grafting from the city at all times and taking the people's money to enrich themselves." Applause lessens.

In this vein he continued and during the course of his remarks gave the financial history of the city from 1890 to the present time without saying anything about the bond issue.

Stopped by Pembroke.

Finally Herbert Pembroke raised a point of order and Chairman Joseph sustained him. Mr. Crane being requested to speak to the question. He soon subsided.

Joseph L. Lippman, persuader-in-chief, was on the floor before Crane got safely seated and started into score that gentleman in words that fairly sizzled. He said there has been a supreme court decision that any man who slanders a body as a class is responsible to each and every one of that body for damages. After going on for some time he too had to be called to order as not speaking to the question and changed his tactics immediately.

Herbert Pembroke followed with a short speech favoring the bonds, and H. A. McMillan, who had called the meeting "to oppose the bonds," became excited and wanted to know why somebody was not opposing them.

"Let's get down to business and name our committee," he said.

Opposition Has Turn.

Critchlow was the next speaker and after he had finished McMillan wanted to have some opposition. There was plenty of it loose, but no one as yet had been given an opportunity to talk with the exception of Crane, as the few friends of the proposition had monopolized all the time.

Mathomah Thomas finally secured the floor and explained his attitude. He moved that a vote be taken as to whether the bond issue be opposed or not, and that committees be named to make a campaign.

After some discussion the vote was taken and showed $2 against the bonds and 15 for them. Chairman Joseph will name three committees of five during the next week, one to finance the campaign, the other on challengers and a third on general arrangements.

BROODING ON HAZING FATAL

Captain Who Would Reform West Point Is Driven to Suicide Before Work Is Done.

New Haven, Conn., July 10.—A cablegram received here brings word of the suicide in the Philippines of Captain James Wallace Broatch, U. S. M. C., and a Yale graduate, class of 1891. No particulars have been received, but acquaintances here say that Captain Broatch had long brooded over differences with brother officers growing out of his efforts to put an end to hazing at West Point. Together with the solitude and monotony of service in the Philippines, Captain Broatch was considered to have been one of the most brilliant men in his class. He accepted a West Point appointment in his junior year, and was a "plebe" there for a year.

On becoming an upper class man he opposed hazing, which led to bitterness between himself and his classmates. Some years later Broatch returned to Yale and completed his course and was given a Ph.D. in 1888. He organized the Yale battery, but as it did not see service, Broatch entered the marine service and saw service in Cuba, where he was given a captaincy, and since then had been in Guam and the Philippines. Captain Broatch was a native of Omaha.

TO FORGET PAST METHODS

Republicans Promise to Give Publicity to Campaign Funds Because Money Will Be Tight.

Hot Springs, Va., July 10.—That the publicity of campaign funds is to be made a feature of the coming campaign has been made clear today. Mr. Taft had extended talks with Chairman Hitchcock and with George R. Sheldon, treasurer of the national committee, who arrived today, and the necessity for the strictest possible compliance with the New York law in relation to the publicity of campaign funds was the chief topic.

Referring to suggestions that the Republican party might receive funds outside of New York and not include them in the report of the treasurer, Mr. Taft replied promptly that it was possible to commit perjury in such a case, but he pointed out that the purpose of giving publicity to the funds of the party was to bring the public into the campaign. He said that the publicity of campaign funds was not in the coming national campaign, but was entirely a thing of the past. He also declared that the New York law in respect to all the funds that come to the national committee, in whatever state they may be collected, will be published with the names of the donors.

Mr. Sheldon said he believed money for campaign purposes should be very tight this year, but he did not believe the publicity of campaign funds would lessen the amount contributed. He declared that compliance with the law in this respect would dispel the popular idea that a vast amount of money is spent in national campaigns.

The report says the Indians are an entirely peaceable gathering, with many women and children present. The two government emissaries advised the Indians to disband and to follow the full-blooded nation of negro followers of the camp number about 200.
